Last minute circumstances forced the Daracon Croft Racing Dirt Late Model Team to miss the first Round of the East Coast Late Model Series at Tyrepower Parramatta City Raceway (NSW) back in late October however it's all systems go for the December 5 Round at the same track.

"We had to miss the first Round of the Series but we are all fired up and ready to go this time" said Ken Croft from the team base in Gunnedah.

"Missing the original Parramatta date, and having the Nowra Round cancelled, means we have had more time to fully prepare for the remainder of the season. Having the additional 'breathing space' has allowed us to tidy up a lot of little jobs".

"The Daracon Team is looking forward to getting back to Tyrepower Parramatta City Raceway that's for sure, as we have some unfinished business there. Towards the end of last season we had some real pace on the Parramatta clay, and with a fully rebuilt engine under the bonnet we are expecting good things once again".

“Luck hasn’t always been riding with us, but I know I’m driving as good as ever, and the team is putting in one hundred percent, so it’s just a matter of time before we are back on the podium on a regular basis” Croft said.

Last season saw the Daracon Croft Racing Team bring highly respected US Dirt Late Model identity Ron Stuckey to Australia to assist with its late season campaign. Stuckey immediately had an impact on the team, with his knowledge of Dirt Late Model chassis setup quickly establishing the #71 Daracon Rocket as a regular front runner.

“We intend to bring Ron Stuckey back to Australia this season and his experience in all facets of Dirt Late Model Racing has definitely been a major factor in moving the entire Daracon Croft Racing operation to a new level”.

“It would be great to get some good results on the board early, as that would give us a real ‘jump start’ leading into the major late season races before Ron arrives” concluded Croft.
