A season plagued with car issues, and rain affected race meetings, is not dampening the spirits of the Port Macquarie based SKM Motorsport Dirt Late Model Team heading into the Tyrepower Late Model Grand National at Tyrepower Parramatta City Raceway (NSW) Saturday March 20.

“The Tyrepower Late Model Grand National is one of the most important races on the East Coast Late Model schedule so we are determined to turn in our best result of the season” said team principal and driver Neil Wallace.

“What’s happened thus far this season is past news, so we are going back to square one and approaching Saturday night’s Grand National as a fresh start to our season campaign. We have been off track most of the last two months, in the main courtesy of the weather, so we have had plenty of time to go right over the car and make sure we are well prepared for the remainder of the East Coast Late Model schedule”.

“The Tyrepower Late Model Grand National is the start of the major East Coast races, with the South Australian Late Model Championship at Mildura on April 2 and 4, the NSW Late Model Championship at Tamworth April 24 and 25, and the Queensland Late Model Championship at Maryborough on May 1 and 2 “ Wallace said.

“We need to get our race program back on track Saturday night, and with a Main victory at Parramatta last season, I know the team and I are capable of running at the pointy end of the field”.

“Let’s just hope the rain stays away on Saturday!” concluded Wallace.
